CM begins three-day visit to Mysuru with KDP meeting

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (BLU&BCT)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah began his three-day visit to Mysuru this morning. He started from Bengaluru by road at 9 am and arrived at the Government Guest House, Nazarbad at 11 am where he was accorded a Guard of Honour as per the protocol.

District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, Superintendent of Police Seema Latkar and other officers were present to receive the CM.

After formalities and speaking to the waiting reporters on various topics, Siddharamaiah headed towards the Zilla Panchayat building where he chaired the KDP (Karnataka Development Programmes) meeting. Senior officers of all the Departments were present along with files and data on their phones.

KDP meeting was attended by MP Pratap Simha, MLAs Tanveer Sait, G.D. Harish Gowda, Anil Chikkamadu, T.S. Srivatsa, MLCs A.H. Vishwanath, Marithibbegowda, C.N. Manjegowda and Dr. D. Thimmaiah. The meeting aimed to address important matters within the district.

Speaking to reporters before the KDP meeting, the CM expressed his enthusiasm for the upcoming programmes in his hometown Mysuru as his Government has completed 100 days in Office. He highlighted the launch of the 4th pre-poll guarantee Gruha Lakshmi scheme on Aug. 30.

Over a lakh women beneficiaries from Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Kodagu districts will attend the mega event planned at Maharaja's College Grounds, he said.

The CM said that there is no proposal on taking up cloud-seeding despite many districts facing rainfall deficit. As a usual practice during dry monsoon season, the State takes a decision on cloud-seeding as per the Union Government's guidelines and the Meteorology Department's inputs. "Cloud-seeding has not been successful in anywhere and there is no use of it. We are prepared to face a drought-like situation," Siddharamaiah said.

On the plans of many MLAs to jump from other parties to Congress, Siddharamaiah said, "Anyone who comes to our side is welcome as we believe in inclusivity," he said. The CM stressed the importance of unity and called upon all to accept and embrace the principles of his party.

As he was speaking to reporters, the CM also took a satirical tone while discussing the political landscape. He questioned the current position of the Opposition parties, particularly the BJP in the State. "Where is the BJP now? It has turned into a minority. They cannot even name the Leader of the Opposition and never before such a situation rose in Karnataka and it is an unfortunate development," he quipped.

KRS Dam low water storage: CM takes Officer to task

'What was the rationale of releasing water to Tamil Nadu farmers depriving our own'

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, who chaired KDP meeting in city this morning, seen with MP Pratap Simha, District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and MLA Tanveer Sait.

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (BLU&BCT)- The focus of the KDP (Karnataka Development Programmes) meeting chaired by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah this morning was on agriculture, farmer suicides, water release from the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, crop loss compensation and the challenges faced by farmers due to inadequate rainfall.

The meeting took place at the Zilla Panchayat Hall and marked the first KDP meeting in Mysuru chaired by Siddharamaiah since becoming the CM.

After reviewing the progress of the Agriculture Department, the CM turned his attention to the Water Resources Department. He directed questions to Chief Engineer Venkatesh regarding the low water storage in the KRS Dam. Venkatesh informed the CM that water had been released from KRS, Kabini, and Harangi Reservoirs in accordance with instructions from higher officials and in 'On and Off' method.

Expressing dissatisfaction with the casual response, Siddharamaiah queried why water had been released to Tamil Nadu instead of prioritising Karnataka's farmers, especially given the low storage level. He questioned the rationale behind providing water to Tamil Nadu farmers while neglecting the needs of their own State's farmers.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

When confronted with failure, it's easy for students to feel ashamed or believe success is too far out of reach. But if we can help students redefine what a mistake is, we can teach them a valuable lesson about improvement and learning. Teach your students that the purpose of school isn't to have all the answers already. It's to learn new things and grow as individuals. This mentality helps students develop self-confidence.

Einstein and Newton, Sir CV Raman and Thomas Jefferson, Tagore and Galileo were never given grades. Today, grades define the contours of our educational system. Our society is structurally dependent on grading performance. The best jobs go to the students with the best grades at the best Universities, who in turn accept students with the best grades. I don't like seeing my students fail, but I don't understand how promoting children who are not up to the mark is beneficial.

By inflating student grades, we are "passing" the student. But we will be "failing" them for the rest of their lives as quacks. By altering a grade, we are changing the face of education.

Less than one-third of high school graduates are "college-ready" and a majority require remedial English and math work. Almost 90% of engineering graduates are not even able to write 10 lines of code. But didn't they earn sufficient grades to pass their classes? We "graduated" them, didn't we?

Colleges accepted them, didn't they? So where did it all go wrong? College authorities want results; parents want results; students want results! And teachers like us are providing these results. So we have a system where there is no reprimand and, thus, no quality control. Adding fuel to the fire, the students who pass with "flying colours" join back as teachers. And the show goes on because the show must go on.

Lightning strikes man twice in 5 minutes

Beijing: A Chinese man can consider himself extremely lucky to be alive after being struck by lightning twice in less than five minutes.

The chances of a person being struck by lightning during their lifetime are about 1-in-15,300, which is much lower than it seems, but the chances of getting struck by lightning twice are significantly lower. There is a reason why they say lightning never strikes in the same place twice, And yet, sometimes incredible things happen, like a person getting struck by lightning twice in just 5 minutes. Liu Nan was outside his home in Zunyi, China's Guizhou Province during a thunderstorm last month, when he saw a white light before losing consciousness and falling to the ground. He barely had time to register what had happened when he saw the bright light again and once again got knocked out.

This mite lifts 1,180 times its own body weight

New York: Measuring about 1 millimetre in size, the oribatid mite or armoured mite is recognized as the strongest creature on Earth. It can lift over 1,000 times its own body weight.

For humans, being able to lift even double our own body weight is an impressive athletic achievement, but that pales in comparison to the strength displayed by creatures hundreds of times smaller.

The Asian weaver ant, for example, can lift 100 times its own body weight, while the dung beetle can lift up to 400 times its body weight. That's like a human being able to lift tens of tonnes, you know, Superman stuff. But even these impressive insects don't come close to the strongest creature on the face of the planet, the tiny oribatid mite, which, thanks to an extremely strong exoskeleton, can lift a whopping 1,180 times its own body weight.

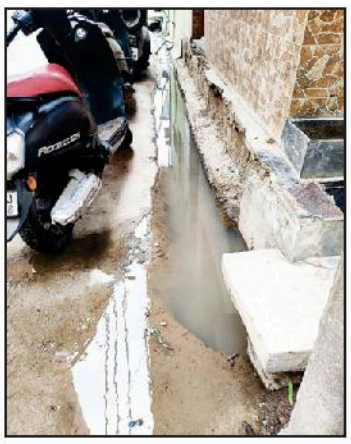
Waste water disposal causing health hazards at Gangammagudi Street

Sir,

This is to highlight the pathetic state of Gangammagudi Street in Devaraja Mohalla. As seen in the picture, a concerning issue arises with the absence of a proper channel and process for waste water disposal in this area. This area is densely populated with residential houses, housing numerous young children and elderly people.



The individuals responsible for road construction have failed to implement adequate provisions for waste water management. Consequently, this oversight has resulted in water blockages and subsequent street flooding.

This stagnant water accumulation has become a breeding ground for mosquitoes and flies, thereby increasing the risk of diseases like dengue and malaria. Despite numerous complaints to the Mysuru City Corporation via phone calls, the response received states that the drainage department is accountable.

However, the workers in the concerned department assert that the responsibility lies with the sewage department, leading to a month-long impasse.

We earnestly appeal for prompt action to be taken to address this issue. The situation necessitates a comprehensive and sustainable solution to ensure proper waste water disposal. This will be crucial in upholding the cleanliness, health, and hygiene of the area.

Four of a family found dead under mysterious circumstances

- Decomposed bodies found in rented house at Chamundipuram
- Family had moved into the house just three months ago

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (SBD,RK &KS)- Four members of a family were found dead under mysterious circumstances and their bodies were found in a decomposed state at a house on the 3rd Cross of the 1st Main Road in Chamundipuram here.

The deceased are APMC vegetable trader Mahadevaswamy (48), his wife Anitha (38), daughters Chandrakala (17) and Dhanalakshmi (15). While the body of Chandrakala was found hanging from the ceiling fan in the hall, the body of Anitha was found on a chair, Mahadevaswamy's body on the floor and the body of Dhanalakshmi was found in a room. It is learnt that they had died 2 to 3 days ago.

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, Deputy Commissioners of Police (DCPs) M. Muthuraj (Law and Order) and S. Jahnavi (Crime and Traffic), K.R. Sub-Division ACP Gangadharaswamy, K.R. Inspector Nagegowda and staff, conducted preliminary investigation. Later Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) personnel and Fingerprint experts visited the spot and have collected samples from the house.

K.R. Police, who registered a case, shifted the bodies to MMC&RI mortuary for post-mortem.

How the incident came to light?

Mahadevaswamy and his family had moved into the rented house just three months ago and hence they were not known much to the neighbours.

The neighbours, who got foul smell on Sunday morning, thought that an animal might have died. But when the smell grew stronger in the afternoon, the neighbours called Emergency Response Support System (ERSS) number 112 and provided information.

Soon, Police personnel, who came to the spot, tried to locate the spot from where the foul smell was emanating and when they looked inside the house of Mahadevaswamy through the window, they found a body hanging, following which Inspector Nagegowda and staff rushed to the spot.

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh too had rushed to the spot by then. The Police found the front door locked from inside and went to the rear portion of the house where they found the door not locked and entered the house only to find four decomposed bodies inside.

Son of Somappa of Baradanapura village, Jayapura hobli in Mysuru taluk, Mahadevaswamy was staying at a rented room in Mysuru since several years. After marrying Anitha, a native of Hunsur taluk, Mahadevaswamy had taken a house on rent and was staying with his wife and children.

Meanwhile, Anitha's relative Kempananjappa said that Mahadevaswamy was staying in a rented room at Vidyanagar and he had got him (Mahadevaswamy) married to Anitha, who was the daughter of his (Kempananjappa) relative.

He further said that he had initially got a house on lease for Mahadevaswamy and later their contact gradually decreased. "Mahadevaswamy had changed three to four houses. Though I pass on this road frequently, I did not know that Mahadevaswamy was staying here. All I knew he (Mahadevaswamy) was a vegetable agent at APMC. I got the tragic information only after I got a call from my place," Kempananjappa added.

Another relative said that Mahadevaswamy was not coming to his native place nor was he taking part in any functions. "He used to speak very politely whenever we met but we were not in frequent touch with each other," the relative added.

Post-mortem was conducted this morning and the bodies were handed over to the relatives.

Public called ERSS number 112 and informed that foul smell was emanating from a house on the 3rd Cross of 1st Main Road in Chamundipuram belonging to Narayana, who had given it on rent. Immediately, '112' personnel rushed to the spot and when they peeped through the window, they saw a body hanging and immediately informed the jurisdictional K.R. Police Station. When K.R. Inspector and we reached the house, we found the front door locked from inside. The back door was not locked and we entered through it only to find the bodies of Mahadevaswamy, his wife and two daughters. It looked like they had died about two to three days back. The reason for their death would be known only after receiving the FSL report. FSL team have inspected the spot and the Police are investigating.

24 skywalks worth Rs. 46 crore planned along Expressway

NHAI prepares Detailed Project Report; walkways designed without disrupting easy passing of vehicles

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (BLU&BS)- Learning lessons from a series of accidents reported on the Access-Controlled Mysuru - Bengaluru Expressway ever since it was opened to traffic in March 2023, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) is taking corrective measures to prevent recurrence of accidents.

In all, 24 skywalks are planned to be built at an estimated cost of Rs. 46 crore on 118-km Expressway to facilitate hassle free movement of the villagers on either side, connecting the villages on the Highway.

Following the construction of the Expressway, access between villages on either side is cut off. In some cases, the villagers are deprived of connectivity to their agricultural lands. However, the villagers had found shortcuts making their own way, by cutting iron meshes of the service road on the Expressway, which sometimes ended up in fatal accidents with the villagers knocked down by speeding vehicles.

Several villagers had vented their anguish for not building the skywalks during the construction of the Expressway. They had also alleged that the Expressway was unscientifically built in a hasty manner, spending several crores of rupees. Even ADGP (Traffic and Road Safety) Alok Kumar, during his inspection visit had made a similar observation about the Expressway built in an unscientific way.

Following this, Police Officers conducted an inspection before recommending NHAI to build skywalks for the ease of pedestrians. Late but not never, NHAI which has woken up to the situation after a series of accidents has initiated the process to build 24 skywalks by identifying the suitable spots.

Taking into cognisance those spots which has more villages in the vicinity, the skywalks will be built at Kalastavadi and Siddalingapura in Mysuru taluk, Siddapura in Nagamangala taluk, Ganangooru and Gowdahalli in Srirangapatna taluk, Gejjalagere in Maddur taluk, B. Gowdagere, Rudrakshipura and Hosadoddi in Maddur taluk, Madapura in K.R. Pet taluk, Kallugopahalli and Hulthar in Ramanagara taluk, Kanaminike in Bangalore South Taluk to name a few junctions.

The NHAI has already prepared a blueprint for Foot Overbridge (FOB)-type skywalk, besides readying the Detailed Project Report (DPR). It is aimed to complete the works within a timeframe of one year.

The contract will be handed over under the Engineering Procurement and Construction (EPC) Model, under which the contractor should take care of maintenance too. The model of skywalks is designed in such a way that though it would be built using concrete and metal, it won't come in the way of easy passing of vehicles beneath. The skywalk will be 63-feet tall from ground level and 10-feet wide.

Paadi Igguthappa Temple in Kodagu gets a grand entrance gate

Madikeri, Aug. 28 (PS&BCT)- The grand entrance gate at the Paadi Igguthappa Temple in Kakkabbe, constructed at a cost of Rs. 12 lakh, was inaugurated by former Kodagu District Minister M.R. Seetharam. The event took place yesterday, and the funding for the gate was generously provided by Seetharam's family.

Speaking on the occasion, Seetharam said that the gate's construction and inauguration were made possible by the blessings of Lord Igguthappa. He highlighted that it was his family's desire to contribute to this endeavour.

Seetharam also mentioned that the concrete road leading to the temple, built earlier for the convenience of devotees, still requires some finishing touches in the middle section, which will be completed in the near future.

Seetharam and his family received praise from both the Temple Committee and devotees for their generous donation towards this noble cause.

Among those present were President of Akhila Kodava Samaja and Temple Devathakka Parandanda Suman Kaverappa, President of the Devotees' Group Kandanda Joyappa, Kaddaniyanda Harish Bopanna, Seetharam's wife Shrithi Seetharam, children Raksha Ramayya, Sundar Ram, Lalitha Nandakumar and Kaliyanda Harry Mandanna, Parandanda Dolly, Bachamanda Poovanna, Lava Chinnappa, Kaliyanda Sampan Aiyappa, Pandanda Naresh, Bidatanda Thammaiah, Temple Parupathedara Paradanda Prince Thammaiah and Revenue Supervisor Ravikumar.

Cauvery Art Gallery lacks visitor flow

Gallery was inaugurated during Dasara-2022 at Dasara Exhibition Grounds

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (GA&BS)- The ambitious Cauvery Art Gallery, located at the Dasara Exhibition Grounds in the city, was established with the intent of allowing visitors to explore the genesis of the revered river. However, it appears to have fallen victim to apathy, as foot traffic remains disappointingly low. The lack of sufficient information available to visitors and tourists about the gallery is the main factor contributing to this situation. As a result, there is a pressing need for renewed efforts to promote awareness of the gallery's existence.

Situated within the Karanji Building, the gallery spans an impressive 19,000 square feet and was constructed at an estimated cost of Rs. 3.5 crore. It was inaugurated during the Dasara-2022 festival to raise awareness among visitors and tourists about the significance of the river after which it is named, as well as the various tourist attractions within the Cauvery basin.

The gallery's main objective is to present this information in a scientific and informative manner. The ground floor of the gallery provides comprehensive information about the river itself, while the interior sections delve into the river's origins at Talacauvery and its journey to the sea at Poompuhar in Tamil Nadu. The gallery also features a map of the river, highlighting important tourist spots and cultural details.

In contrast to other attractions that are only accessible during the Dasara festival, the Cauvery Art Gallery remains open year-round. Nevertheless, it struggles to attract adequate visitors.

The creation of the gallery was a collaborative effort involving the Karnataka Tourism Department, Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA), National Academy of Sciences India (NASI) and the National Council of Science Museums.

Drawing inspiration from successful projects like the Ganga Gallery in Allahabad, Uttar Pradesh and the Brahmaputra Gallery in Guwahati, Assam, both of which were established by NASI, a proposal was submitted by the then Chairman of the Karnataka Knowledge Commission, Prof. K. Kasturirangan, to the former Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa. Subsequently, the Cauvery Gallery was developed with NASI's guidance.

The gallery serves as an educational platform for school and college students, enabling them to trace the evolution of the Cauvery River and its confluence through scientific presentations. A dedicated room has been designed for viewing a 3D documentary about the river.

Visitors only during Dasara

"The Cauvery Art Gallery remains open throughout the year, yet the majority of visitors tend to come during the Dasara festival. We have reached out to the Deputy Director of Public Instruction (DDPI) with a request to organise visits for school students, aiming to broaden their knowledge by exposing them to this facility. The entry fee is Rs. 5 for children and Rs. 25 for adults."

108th Jayanthi Mahotsava at Suttur Mutt in city tomorrow

Homage to Karmayogi Jagadguru

Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji

By Prof. A.V. Narasimha Murthy
Former Head, Department of Ancient History & Archaeology,
University of Mysore

Temples and Mutts have played and continue to play a significant social and religious role in our society, constantly guiding us. One such Mutt is Suttur Mutt, which is well-known both inside and outside India.

Prof. AVN

Since great antiquity, this Mutt has had several holy pontiffs, Pattada Sri Shivarathreeshwara Swamiji being prominent among them. Then came Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji, who was born in Suttur on Aug. 29, 1916, to Smt. Marammanni and Sri Mallikarjunaswamy. Pattada Sri Shivarathreeshwara Swamiji had expressed his desire to take the youngster as his pupil and eventually succeed him as the Jagadguru of Suttur Srikshetra. An overjoyed parents decided to dedicate their son to the glory of Suttur Mutt.

Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji spent his formative years at Suttur where he had his primary education. He was given sanyasa by the senior pontiff, who also named him the 23rd Jagadguru of Suttur Mutt in 1928 while he was only twelve years old. People were pleased that Suttur Mutt had a qualified successor and that the Mutt would grow rapidly under his able leadership and guidance.

When Rajendra Swamiji arrived in Mysore, he observed that numerous underprivileged students came to Mysore from various places as Mysore had become a prominent centre for education. He was deeply concerned about the plight of the students, especially rural students, who were having difficulty in finding boarding and lodging. He strongly felt that without education for the rural and impoverished population, society would not advance, and having political freedom alone would be meaningless.

In the meantime, the Swamiji had a chance to visit Kashi, where Sri Gowrishankara Swamiji was teaching at the Kashi Vidyapeetha. Even at Kashi, Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji saw the struggles of the less fortunate students, which further strengthened his resolve to support the students who were in dire need of education, food and housing.

FIRST RESIDENTIAL SCHOOL

Upon his arrival back in Mysuru from Kashi, he stepped right into action and began offering boarding to a select group of students who had no assistance. As a result, the first residential school, Prasada Nilaya, was established. Suttur Mutt used to provide it with food and vegetables, but they weren't enough. As a result of the respect that people had for the Swamiji, food supplies used to arrive at the hostel gradually. Thus, the first students' hostel of Suttur Mutt came into existence. This hostel was open to students of all castes and communities. Gradually the number of hostels increased and, by 1950, three hostels were functional and catered to students from Primary School to the University.

Such was his compassion for the poor students, that he once pawned his golden Karadige and with that money, he brought rice and other ingredients to feed the hostel students.

SUTTUR HOSTELS

Slowly hostels were started at Yelandur, T. Narasipur, Ramapura, Holenarasipura etc. Food and other amenities were such that people began to say, "If you want to study and be educated, you should become a student of Suttur Hostel."

Recognising the importance of education to uplift the society, Rajendra Mahaswamiji founded JSS Mahavidyapeetha in 1954. As the Founder-President of Mahavidyapeetha, over a hundred educational institutions were established — including many types of Schools and Colleges comprising Technical and Medical institutions that catered to students beyond caste, creed and communities.

Thus came into existence Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering (SJCE) in Mysuru in 1963 followed by Sri Shivarathreeswara Medical College. In 1970, he started a medical centre which later became the foundation for JSS Medical College. Many Polytechnics were also started and JSS became a brand name.

SOCIAL REFORMS

Swamiji was a vocal proponent of social reforms and actively campaigned against social ills such as caste discrimination and untouchability. Once he took part in a programme at a village near Mysore. After the programme, dinner was arranged. Swamiji used this opportunity to educate people on the ills of caste system and decided to have food with Dalits. The householder and the villagers said, 'Swamiji, you are an incarnation of Basavanna.' Swamiji also attended many marriage ceremonies of people from lower strata of society and the downtrodden and showed that caste and community should not become a barrier to purposeful living.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Swamiji was a strong advocate of women's education and empowerment. Many of the educational institutions founded by him provided opportunities for girls and women to receive quality education.

Recognising the ecological challenges of his time, Swamiji promoted environmental conservation and sustainability. His teachings emphasised the importance of living in harmony with nature.

He founded Hospitals and Healthcare Centres to provide quality medical care to underprivileged. His efforts in healthcare extended beyond providing medical services; they also included healthcare education and awareness programmes.

PHILANTHROPY

Swamiji was known for his philanthropic endeavours. He initiated various social projects to alleviate poverty and offer relief during natural disasters.

He also established many Trusts and Societies, such as JSS Medical Service Trust, Sri Shivarathreeshwara Rural Development Foundation, JSS Sangeetha Sabha, Shivarathreeshwara Endowment Trust, Akhila Bharatha Sharana Sahitya Parishath, etc. that catered to many social needs.

Due to his untiring service to society, the name and fame of Swamiji spread far and wide and many dignitaries called on him to get his blessings. The list includes the first President of India Dr. Rajendra Prasad, Dr. S. Radhakrishnan and many others. Several Ministers, top officials and businessmen too used to visit the Mutt and have darshan of the Swamiji, who used to give them advice to serve the society.

Many devotees believed that the Swamiji needed to visit England and America. Swamiji did not agree in the beginning but ultimately agreed as it would help to motivate the followers of the Swamiji to do more social service. He went there and saw many parts of America and inaugurated the Ninth Convention of the Veerashaiva Samaja in America. When he got back to the Mutt, he was exhausted, but the mind was highly receptive. He perhaps knew that God wanted him to get relieved from the daily mundane life. He had assigned many aspects of the management to his would-be successor, Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, the present Pontiff of the Mutt.

Though many doctors advised Swamiji to have adequate rest, he ignored it and continued to work for the benefit of society. He attained his heavenly abode (Lingaikya) in 1986. The news of Mahaswamiji's demise spread like wildfire and thousands of devotees came to Suttur Mutt to pay their last respects. The funeral procession of Swamiji was taken around various streets of Mysore and his holy Samadhi was arranged next to that of Mantra Maharshi Swamiji.

AN ERA ENDS

A great era ended with the Mahasamadhi of the great savant. Swamiji is no longer with us physically, but the good works and social service he rendered, and the institutions he built, eloquently testify to his greatness. Maharaja Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar conferred the title of 'Rajaguru Tilaka' in 1970 as a recognition of Swamiji's immense contribution to society.

Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji was awarded an Honorary Doctorate by the University of Mysore in 1989 posthumously.

Today JSS has become a household name in Karnataka and many parts of India and abroad under the dynamic and spiritual leadership of Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji. A worthy disciple of a worthy Guru and that is the tradition of Sri Suttur Mutt.

Many biographies of Mahaswamiji have been written by scholars who had the opportunity to see the Swamiji from close quarters like Dr. H. Thipperudraswamy, Dr. Chandrashekariah and others.

CONCLUSION

I conclude this article with a personal incident. My father, late Sri Aradikoppa Viswanatha Sastry, was a part-time Sanskrit teacher at Kyathanahalli Pathashala. I used to go there and meet my father sometimes. Jagadguru Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji used to meet people who visited the Patashala; they were all prostrating before the Swamiji. As a young boy, with all innocence, I asked the Swamiji, 'Are you a God as people prostrate before you?' He smiled and said, 'Yes, everybody is God including you and me. You will not understand it now. Later in your life, you will understand this.' I smiled and came away. Much later in life, I realised the meaning of the profound words of Swamiji.

Dr. Sri Rajendra Mahaswamiji's legacy endures through the institutions he founded, the lives he touched and the principles he espoused. His teachings continue to inspire countless persons to lead lives of purpose, compassion and service to society. His commitment to education, social reform and humanitarianism serves as a guiding light for generations to come, reminding us that a life dedicated to the well-being of others can leave an everlasting legacy.

I join thousands of devotees in paying homage to Jagadguru Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Mahaswamiji on his 108th birth anniversary being celebrated on 29.8.2023 for his single-minded devotion, dedication and sacrifices aimed at the welfare of society. CM Siddharamaiah will inaugurate the Jayanthi Mahotsava at Suttur Mutt in city tomorrow at 10.30 am.

Dispel myths disseminated about cardiology through social media

Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra inaugurates 25th anniversary of Cardiological Society of India

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (GA&BCT)- The Cardiological Society of India (CSI), Mysuru, celebrated its 25th anniversary last evening at Cauvery Hall in Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) premises in city. The event was marked by felicitation of senior doctors, former Presidents and founding members of the Society.

Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra inaugurated the anniversary celebrations and Mysuru CSI Secretary, Dr. S. Hema delivered the keynote address.

"After the COVID-19 pandemic, 'WhatsApp University' has become a notorious source of misinformation, particularly in the field of cardiology, causing widespread confusion and panic," DC Dr. Rajendra said.

"This misinformation has resulted in heightened anxiety among young individuals. The situation is compounded by the notion that even minor discomfort might signify a serious health problem, leading to unnecessary stress for both the youth and medical professionals," he added.

He stressed the importance of countering these misconceptions and misinformation about cardiology. The DC emphasised the need for increased awareness and urged for the dissemination of accurate information regarding recent research developments in the field, especially post COVID-19.

The Deputy Commissioner praised the services of CSI to the general public, highlighting their crucial role in countering prevalent health-related myths that often spread rapidly through social media.

"These misinformation campaigns have a particularly adverse impact on individuals who are physically active, as well as on the younger population. The role of CSI in dispelling these myths and providing public education has become more critical than ever," he noted.

Therefore, CSI and its members possess the potential to significantly impact the public by disseminating accurate scientific information. This effort can contribute immensely to enabling individuals to enhance the quality of their lives and add more healthy years through well-informed choices.

As part of the event, talks on 'Diabetes and Microvascular Dysfunction,' 'TV- How should I watch it,' 'Menopause and The Heart,' 'Advanced Heart Failure' and twin sessions on 'Resistant Hypertension' and 'Renal Artery Stenosis: When to intervene — a case-based talk' were held.

Woman cheated of Rs.10 lakh in land deal

Mysuru, Aug. 28 (BS)- A woman has been allegedly cheated of Rs. 10 lakh after paying advance towards a land deal at Gundlupet taluk in Chamarajanagar district.

S.S. Lakhmi, aged 55 years and resident of Sharadadevi Nagar in the city is that woman. In her complaint to Saraswatipuram Police Station, Lakshmi has accused Ashwini who was previously working at Deputy Commissioner's office in Mysuru, her husband Yatish Madhu and brother Amitraj of cheating her.

The accused had offered to sell two acres of total six acres and 38 guntas of land at Survey No. 534/1 at Somanahalli, Begurhobli, Gundlupet taluk, for Rs. 14 lakh to Lakshmi. They had even collected Rs. 10 lakh advance from the victim, besides signing a sale agreement. Even though the victim was ready to pay the remaining amount, the accused were buying time to complete the process towards registering the land in her name.

Recently, when Lakshmi enquired about the land, it came to light that, the accused had sold the same land to one K. M. Leelavathi of Bengaluru, a day after entering into a sale agreement with her.

Saraswatipuram Police are investigating the case.

KRS Dam low water storage

"Why did we allocate water to Tamil Nadu farmers, depriving our own? Despite having ample water in the Mettur Dam, why did we release water from our dams? Our foremost concern should be safeguarding our crops and farmers. Why wasn't water released in necessary quantity for our farmers?" the CM inquired, prompting the officer to search for answers.

CM presses for answers

The Water Resources Department's Chief Engineer attempted to justify the water release based on Government and Court directives. However, an agitated CM continued to press for answers, directing a series of questions.

"In Tamil Nadu, they have expanded cultivation from 1.85 lakh acres to 3 lakh acres, utilising 63 tmcft of water from the Mettur Dam. In contrast, KRS had 113 feet of water, which has now dwindled to 102 feet. How did we arrive at this situation? Why was water not released in the required volume and rationally?" Siddharamaiah questioned.

Venkatesh clarified that the decision to release water from KRS and Kabini had been made by the Water Resources Advisory Committee. The CM urged the Department to prioritise the interests of Karnataka farmers over those of Tamil Nadu, emphasising that the 'on and off' release system should be implemented only during distress situations, not during the filling process of reservoirs.

Erratic rainfall patterns

During the meeting, the performance of the Agriculture Department underwent scrutiny, with the CM personally assessing progress in agricultural sector. Effective dissemination of information and support provided by the department to farmers emerged as a key discussion point.

Chandrashekhar, Joint Director, Agriculture Department, highlighted the erratic rainfall patterns experienced in the region. He noted that annual rainfall from January to December had fallen 18 percent below the average. Additionally, there was a shortfall in planting targets in Mysuru district, with only 2.33 lakh acres sown against a 3.98 lakh-acre target.

The CM raised concerns about officials' engagement with farmers, urging a comprehensive strategy for informing farmers about alternative crops and addressing crop diseases. He stressed that the responsibility for preventing crop diseases rested with the Agriculture Department and demanded clarity on the steps taken by officials.

Warning for inaccurate info

Siddharamaiah also cautioned against providing inaccurate information, underlining transparent communication to inform Government decisions. Amid discussions, the CM pointed out a discrepancy in a slideshow presentation, eliciting laughter from the audience.

The tone grew serious when the CM addressed farmer suicides. He implored officials to expedite compensation for affected families and stressed the importance of a swift response, underscoring respect and empathy for the farming community.

Separately, concerns were raised about the absence of Assistant Agricultural Officers in the district. The lack of appointments was identified, highlighting the urgency of personnel appointments within the agricultural sector.

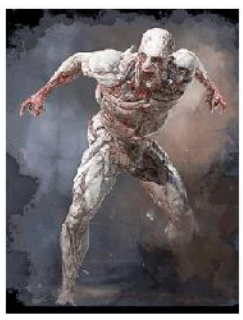
WORD OF THE DAY

Volatile



Pronunciation: VAH-luh-tul.
Meaning: Volatile has several closely related meanings, including "subject to rapid or unexpected change," "having or showing extreme or sudden changes of emotion," and "likely to become dangerous or out of control."
Origin: Volatile was originally for the birds — quite literally. Back in the 14th century, the word was a noun and volatiles were birds (especially wild fowl) or other winged creatures, such as butterflies. That's not as flighty as it sounds. Volatile traces back to the Latin verb volare, which means "to fly." By the end of the 16th century, people were using volatile as an adjective to describe meal ground so fine and light that it could easily "fly" or be blown about. Soon after, the adjective was extended to creatures that were capable of flying (as in "volatile insects"), later to vapors and gases, and by the early 17th century, to individuals or things as prone to sudden change as some gaseous substances. In recent years, volatile has alighted in economic, political, and technical contexts far flown from its avian origins.

THE ODD WORD

Vaniloquence

Vain or foolish talk.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Vanish into thin air

Meaning: Disappear without trace.
Origin: Shakespeare came close to this phrase in Othello, 1604:
Clown: Then put up your pipes in your bag, for I'll away. Go; vanish into air; away! and closer still in The Tempest, 1610:
Prospero: These our actors, as I foretold you, were all spirits and are melted into air, into thin air It seems clear that Shakespeare coined the terms thin air (which has been widely used since the 17th century by a diverse collection of authors, including John Milton (1671), William Blake (1800) and Ed McBain (1977) and vanish into air, used by lesser-known author; James Hogg, in his work Mountain Bard, 1807. Shakespeare didn't put the two together to make vanish into thin air though. The first use I can find of that phrase, which is clearly an adaptation of Shakespeare's terms, is in The Edinburgh Advertiser, April 1822, in a piece about the imminent conflict between Russia and Turkey: The latest communications make these visions "vanish into thin air."

I leave no trace of wings in the air, but I am glad I have had my flight.
